Colonel Heeza Liar - Vacation

The picture opens with a scene of the Colonel after he has been refused a vacation. He decides to take one so he jumps into an empty milk bottle, and is sent unnoticed to a farm. Farmer wonders what new kind of a microbe he has in the milk. After a short conversation with the Colonel the farmer informs him there is no such thing as a vacation on a farm. The Colonel's first task is to milk a cow. For reasons known only to herself Bessie the cow refuses to be milked by the Colonel, but after many amusing stunts and much pleading and coaxing on the part of the Colonel, Bessie gives him a pail of milk, the dropping of which sounds like music to the Colonel.

The cartoonists at home can do no work without the Colonel so they agree to go to a ball game. They are leaving the office just as the milkman is delivering the milk for lunch and their attention is attracted to the desk by a bottle of milk that moves. They investigate only to find that the Colonel has returned the way he left. He is ready for work but discovers that he is an awful dumbbell for having come back so soon for now the cartoonists are going on their vacation.
